

MANGLED BIKES—Two young bicycle riders were injured 5:48 p.m. Saturday when their bikes were struck by a motorcycle on Avon Drive. The driver and a passenger on the motorcycle were also injured. All four were treated and released at Berger Hospital.

Seven Injured In City Mishaps

Seven persons were injured, one seriously, in four separate traffic accidents in the city over the weekend.

Gary E. Dett, 23, 508 Renick Ave., suffered head injuries when he pulled his auto into the path of a car driven by John D. Robinson, 56, Route 3, 7:20 p.m. Saturday on the Lancaster Pike at Fairview Ave. Dett was taken to Berger Hospital and transferred to University Hospital, Columbus.

According to the report of Sgt. Wes Barton, Robinson was westbound on Lancaster Pike when Dett, who had stopped for the stop sign at Fairview Ave., pulled out and was struck by the Robinson auto.

Four persons were injured in the collision of a motorcycle and two bicycles 5:48 p.m. Saturday on Avon Drive.

Injured in the accident were: James Patrick Mogan, 22, 209 E. Main St., driver of the motorcycle; Dottie Mogan, 19, 209 E. Main St., a passenger on the motorcycle; Diane L. Wilamowski, 371 Clark Drive and Kevin Mays, 380 Avon Drive, who were riding their bicycles. All were treated and released at Berger Hospital.

Skylab Crewmen Doing Well, See No Bar To 56-Day Trip

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Convinced that man is "up there to stay," Skylab 1's crew today continues medical examinations and begins 17 days of reporting about its record four-week mission.

Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz flew to the space center Sunday night after meeting earlier in the day with President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev in San Clemente, Calif.

At nearby Ellington Air Force Base, they held their wives in lingering embraces and briefly addressed a group of about 400 persons, mostly space workers.

Mission commander Conrad said he and his crewmates left the orbiting space station in good shape for Skylab 2, a 56-day flight that is to start July 27 under the command of Alan L. Bean.

"I'm glad to turn it over to Capt. Bean and his crew," said Conrad. "As far as I'm concerned, he's got for 56 days."

Kerwin, the crewman who suffered most from the effects of space weightlessness, shrugged off reports of his dizziness and nausea which occurred after the astronauts returned to earth Friday.

"I read some statements in the paper about my postflight condition," the physician said. "All I can say is that, if this is the worst that space can do, ... we're up there to stay."

Weitz thanked the space workers and said "it's been a team effort all the way."

Engineers and scientists will huddle with Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz daily until July 11, discussing all aspects of the mission, which the astronauts saved with a series of repairs that earned them the title "fix anything guys."

Dean Ties Nixon To Coverup Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III testified today he believes President Nixon was involved in the Watergate affair but did not realize its implications.

Dean told the Senate Watergate committee he hopes "the President is forgiven" when all the facts are known.

The ousted White House counsel, who is expected to testify that Nixon knew about the Watergate coverup, released the first portion of a lengthy opening statement to newsmen in advance of his appearance today before the Senate Watergate committee.

However, Dean did not immediately issue the portion of his statement dealing with his personal conversations with the President last Sept. 15 and earlier this year. This testimony he saved to deliver in person.

Dean's advance remarks did, however, deal with his reaction to Nixon's statement last Aug. 29, when Nixon said Dean had conducted an investigation of the Watergate wiretapping that cleared everyone employed in the administration at that time.

"I had no advance knowledge that the President was going to indicate that I had investigated the matter," Dean said.

"I first learned of the matter when I heard it on a television news broadcast that evening...."

"Had I been consulted in advance by the President, I would have strongly opposed the issuing of such a statement...."

Dean said he knew at the time that Gordon Strachan, an aide to presidential chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, had brought information relating to wiretapped conversations into the White House.

Dean said Strachan had destroyed incriminating documents at Haldeman's direction.

Also, Dean said, he hadn't been able at that time to tell whether or not Haldeman knew about the wiretapping in advance.

And Dean said he had suspected that presidential counselor Charles W. Colson was "far more knowledgeable than he protested."

"Colson protested too much," Dean said.

Dean also said:

—White House aide John Caulfield told him he had tapped a newsman's telephone, possibly that of columnist Joseph Kraft, on orders of Ehrlichman.

—Haldeman had authorized "any means, legal or illegal," to keep demonstrators out of sight of Nixon on trips and public appearances.

—While he worked at the Justice Department he was used as a courier to deliver to the White House FBI information on foreign travels of Mary Jo Kopechne, the secretary killed when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile ran off a bridge at Chappaquiddick, Mass., in July 1969.

—Caulfield told him that within hours of the Chappaquiddick accident Anthony Ulasevic, a private investigator employed secretly by Ehrlichman, was on the scene investigating. He said Ulasevic posed as a newsman and asked the most embarrassing questions at news conferences during the aftermath of the incident.

—An aide to Haldeman once said Haldeman ordered 24-hour spying on Kennedy, but this was called off when Caulfield protested it was unwise.

—A top Secret Service official, whom Dean didn't name, brought him intelligence information about Sen. George McGovern in the spring of 1971. Dean said Colson had the information published.

Dean's testimony was scheduled to kick off what is expected to be the Senate Watergate committee's longest and most sensational week of hearings.

Five days have been set aside to hear Dean and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who has been accused of giving final approval to the Watergate wiretapping last year. Mitchell is expected to follow Dean in the witness chair later this week.

Dean has not denied that he was at the center of a plot to cover up the wiretapping scandal, as alleged by federal prosecutors. And he reportedly has admitted, during a private session with Senate investigators, that he borrowed $4,850 in campaign money to finance his honeymoon last year.

He also made accusations against the President and former top aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, according to a summary of testimony Dean gave in closed session more than a week ago.

Dean reportedly said that during his only substantive meeting with Nixon last year, on the day seven men were indicted in the wiretapping, the President said Haldeman had told him what a good job Dean had done. It had been feared at the time that Jeb Stuart Magruder, the campaign's No. 2 man, might be indicted with the rest.

Dean's private testimony deeply implicated Haldeman and Ehrlichman in the coverup. Dean said that before the Watergate raid he told Haldeman what had gone on at meetings in Mitchell's office, during which wiretapping was discussed.

State Legislators May Vote Selves Big Pay Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio lawmakers may include a $3,000 to $3,500 pay raise for themselves when a salary bill for state elected officials and judges comes up for a committee vote Tuesday.

The Senate Ways and Means Committee is voting on the measure and Chairman Michael R. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said Democratic leaders told him they won't support the bill unless legislators are included.

Maloney said he expects amendments to the bill raising pay for state legislators from $14,000 to either $17,000 or $17,500.

The General Assembly voted last year to increase its salary to $14,000 from the previous $12,500, but Maloney said the current salary, without expenses, "is just not sufficient."

The pay bill would boost the governor's salary from $40,000 to $50,000.

Also proposed are $40,000 salaries for the state auditor, state treasurer and the state attorney general, all now paid $25,000.

The lieutenant governor, now paid $17,000, would get $25,000 under the subcommittee version.

The bill also includes across-the-board raises for judges, starting with an increase for the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court to $42,000 from his present $32,000.

Unless the Ohio Constitution is changed, the legislative hikes will not go into effect until 1974 and 1976. Public officials cannot get pay raises until they are elected and it takes two elections for all House and Senate members to be elected.

Other judicial salary recommendations of the subcommittee are: —Justices of the Supreme Court, now at $30,000, raised to $38,000.

—Appellate judges, now at $28,000 raised to $35,000. —Common Pleas Judges, now paid $14,000 to $26,000 depending on population in their district, would go to a range of $23,000 to $33,000.

—Municipal judges, now limited to a maximum of $23,000 in the largest counties, would be able to go to $28,000. —County court judges would get a raise of about $1,400.

Burn Victim's Family Needs Suitable Housing

By MICHELE MORRISON

Five-year-old Tammy Hartshorn wants to come home to her mother, father and younger brother and the Childrens Hospital agrees that she may, but...

NEEDS HOME — Tammy Hartshorn, 5, who was burned from her knees to her cheeks in a trailer fire in January, is facing placement in a foster home if her parents cannot find a suitable home.

Tammy, a severe burn victim, requires certain sanitary conditions and lots of water, something which the hospital visits for therapy twice a week and the Hartshorns realize there will Larry Hartshorn can find suitable housing, Tammy's situation at the hospital is unsettled.

The Hartshorns were told they could not bring Tammy home until they had a house of their own. Living in with family was not approved.

Unable to find anything else, they rented the two-room Harold Strous house off Route 56 outside of Laurelville for $20 a month.

All their spare money was spent papering and cleaning up the house to make it suitable for Tammy's arrival. Then hospital officials discovered that there was no piped-in water and the spring-fed outdoor supply was not pure enough to be used on Tammy's tender new skin. Toilet facilities are also outdoors.

$1-Per-Dozen Eggs In America's Future?

By KRISTIN LILJEHOLM
Associated Press Writer

Eggs at $1 a dozen and leaner days at supermarket meat and poultry counters are being forecast by some industry spokesmen. They say farmers across the country are caught in the middle between the 60-day freeze on retail food prices and a free-floating feed grain market.

"The poultry producer is in the unworkable position of having to pay out more than he receives," Abit Massey, director of the Georgia Poultry Association, said Sunday. "They are just hoping something will be done before the 60-day limitation of the price freeze. They can't last that long."

Bruce Hettle of the Poultrymen's Cooperative Association in California predicted laying hens would be sold as stew meat. "That will mean fewer eggs and we could end up with a black market situation" and eggs as high as $1 a dozen, he said.

The Cost of Living Council said Saturday it is investigating whether the administration's 60-day price freeze, announced June 13, is causing food shortages. The Senate Agriculture Committee said last week the price freeze is threatening "drastic shortages" of some foods.

Government officials were not immediately available for comment on the feed grain price situation.

Some east Texas farmers have drowned hundreds of thousands of chickens. While no other food-producers in the South and West have yet taken such drastic action, many are cutting back on output. They cite losses of 4 cents per dozen on eggs and up to 6 cents per pound on broilers because of skyrocketing feed prices.

One poultryman said soybean feed that cost $92.50 per ton last fall is in the $400 range now.

Feed mills — which buy the raw grain on the unfrozen market and must sell most of their processed product at frozen prices — are faring little better. Spokesmen for the Los Angeles Grain Exchange estimated mills were losing $6 for every ton of processed feed sold. Mills that were paying $3.41 per bushel for soybeans in May 1972 paid $8.50 this May. Corn jumped from $1.41 to $1.75 per bushel between March and May.

Food industry spokesmen said the cutbacks in flocks and herds could show up at the supermarket in eight to 10 weeks. Most agreed shortages and higher prices would depend on government action and the grain export situation.

While some producers of broiler chickens and laying hens were cutting back flocks by as much as 40 per cent, livestock growers were said to be selling hogs and cows normally used as breeders as a method of thinning herds.

Leo Johnson of the California Cattlemen's Association said prices for grain "have just gone completely out of sight." But he noted that the real crunch in the supply of livestock would come later when the animals enter feedlots, since feed on the range is plentiful this year.

Prisoner Union Causing Trouble?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Corrections chief told a U.S. House Internal Security subcommittee today that the Ohio Prisoners Labor Union is the only group giving him difficulty. But he said he does not consider the group revolutionary.

Dr. Bennett J. Cooper said the union has been organized in some of the state's eight main prisons to negotiate "everything from better food to when they're getting out."

The three-member subcommittee, headed by U.S. Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., came to Columbus to investigate infiltration of the state's prisons by radical groups.

McGovern Aide Now Prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top lawyer in the office of the special Watergate prosecutor once headed a task force on crime for Democratic candidate George McGovern.

James Vorenberg said in an interview that his role as a McGovern adviser was a very limited one. He said he wrote one McGovern speech on crime and held two press conferences on the issue.

During the 1972 presidential campaign, Vorenberg took strong issue with Republican claims that crime had been reduced during Nixon's first term.

At a Washington news conference in mid-October, Vorenberg challenged then Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst to debate the crime issue.

"Richard Nixon and his associates in the Justice Department have had the audacity to try to persuade the American people that the crime problem is being brought under control," Vorenberg said.

He said in an interview last week that he had expressed such views repeatedly before he joined the McGovern campaign. He also said that he knew relatively little about the Watergate case during the campaign and never had a role in any of McGovern's statements on it.

A professor at Harvard Law School and former executive director of the presidential crime commission that reported in 1967, Vorenberg is a nationally recognized authority on law enforcement.

He was one of the first lawyers recruited by Archibald Cox, the special Watergate prosecutor. Vorenberg joined Cox for a short-term assignment in helping organize the rapidly growing staff of attorneys and investigators.

"I can imagine someone saying it would be inappropriate for someone who was McGovern's adviser on criminal justice to have a continuing role," Vorenberg said of his current job. "The problem is, it will be hard to build up a staff of people who are kind of political neutrals."

Cox, a Democrat who was U.S. Solicitor General in the Kennedy administration, has emphasized his office's independence of the Nixon administration.

Vorenberg said he has never hidden the fact that he supported McGovern or opposed Nixon's policies on dealing with crime but, he added, "I was not particularly close to Sen. McGovern. I guess I saw him once or twice during the whole campaign."

He said he did not intend to stay at the prosecutors office beyond Labor Day.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done". But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Old-Line Farmer Cultivates Big Onion Crop With Hands

PLEASANTVILLE, Iowa (AP) — Floyd Thornburg is one of those people who prefers to cultivate his crops by hand.

As Eleanor Tate says in her poem, "The Universal Agrarian:"
He patiently Plants his sprouts row after row in the Black plowed soil;

Like the Fathers of Fathers of Fathers long ago...

like the Multitudes of Other Men who with Bare Brown Hands toil the soil—

Seed by Seed, Sprout by Sprout, in Eternal Dignity.

Thornburg, 65, and retired, owns a farm northwest of Pleasantville and plans to plant some 70,000 onion sprouts this spring. When harvested, he'll sell them to vegetable stand owners in the Pleasantville area.

He plants his onions early in the spring because, he said, onions will "stand a lot of freezing."

"About a year or so ago there were four mornings straight where the temperature got down to about 24, and they never froze," he said. "Course,

Mary is a 1972 graduate of Groveport-Madison High School. She plans to major in home economics education.

Norbert H. Hertl, New Holland, a student in Ohio State University's College of Denistry, was awarded the Mosby Book Award for scholastic achievement during the college's annual recognition banquet June 6. A senior, he was also elected to OMICRON Kappa Upsilon, a dental honor society.

David W. Skaggs, 130 Dunmore Road, was a member of the 1973 graduating class of Hocking Technical College, Nelsonville. He received an associate degree in accounting.

Attending the graduation exercises were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Skaggs.

Open Letter

Dear friends,

A clergyman once said it is a sad commentary that many people are in church only three times, and in two of these instances they must be carried in and out.

Another minister said this presents a challenge for all clergymen to make of the funeral an opportunity to serve the religious needs of those who survive.

Now They Tell Us

At a time when many parents either had begun to master "new math" or given up on faith that their kids were geniuses, some of the prime movers of the math revolution of the last 10 years are admitting it may all have been a mistake.

They are almost forced to such an admission, because it has become noticeable that many high school graduates never learned to add, subtract, multiply or divide.

The director of a University of Illinois committee which has advocated "new math" reforms for years now frankly admits: "I think many of us who were involved in its inception and development now feel that the modern-math movement not only didn't solve our problems, but did some harm. It has probably made things worse at the elementary school level."

Such criticisms are not proof that all reform advocates have given up. To the contrary, "new math" theories still hold large sway in the classroom. But educators and parents both are taking a harder look at a teaching method which itself is producing low scores on achievement tests, especially when compared to similar results taken from the years when old math was in style.

Reducing The Din

As most urban dwellers and some rural residents know, noise can be an annoying nuisance. As others who have studied the subject more thoroughly know, it can be crippling.

Some pollution fighters have called noise the worst culprit of all, accounting for partial deafness in perhaps as much as 20 per cent of the population.

Industrial noises have been under study for years because some of them were so obvious it did not require an expert to point out the deleterious effects. But noise comes in many forms, and some of the legislation enacted in recent years to combat noise paints the offense with a wide brush.

New York's anti-noise law, less than a year old, does not stop short of setting standards for such sounds as ice cream truck bells and police sirens.

The new federal Noise Control Act gives the Environmental Protection Agency wide powers, backed by stiff fines, to curb almost anything considered harmfully loud. The whispering campaign has begun in earnest.

Giants In Trouble

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Regardless of the immediate results of the Nixon Brezhnev conversations, the handwriting on the wall tells the same thing to Soviet Russia, Maoist China and the U.S. itself. They must get along to save themselves economically in a world where all the money-making advantages have been passing to the European Common Market, the Japanese and such pertinacious little countries as Taiwan, Iran and the Arab crude-oil producers.

Leonid Brezhnev tumbled to the realities of the situation when his agriculture failed him. Luckily the U.S., with its wheat surplus, was there to bail him out. The truth about the Soviet Union's ramshackle economic system was underscored for Brezhnev when, in order to feed his people, he had to give internal railroad priority to the movement of grain from Odessa and Baltic ports to cities in the Soviet interior. Some 20 per cent of the grain was lost by spillage from porous freight cars over the tracks and along the sidings, where it was consumed by rats. Meanwhile, with the whole system given over to the stark necessity of shipping the grain, the normal movement of fertilizer to Soviet farms had to be suspended.

A realist, Brezhnev had to face the fact that the only strong industrial skills possessed by the Russians were in the armament business: the Soviets can make tanks and missiles. The use of the available armament could not be projected far from the Soviet borders without risking an atomic olocaust that would recoil disastrously on Russia itself. And, with the U.S. cozying up to Red China, a "preventive" war restricted to inner Asia involved its own planning difficulties. What if it were to become a guerrilla struggle lasting for decades, with the U.S. feeding the Red Chinese resistance?

When Brezhnev decided to put the rehabilitation of Soviet agriculture, transportation and consumer industry ahead of military conquest or even subversion, it dictated a stand-off attitude in the Middle East and in Southeast Asia. Mao had an identical interest in preserving a status quo; he needs time to build up his own industry and to bring himself abreast of the Soviets in atomic deterrent capacity. Nixon and Kissinger exploited the situation to get 500,000-plus American soldiers out of Vietnam; they can even save Cambodia if the U.S. Congress will only use a little common sense.

The U.S., still protected against non-atomic attack by two big oceans, may not be in the same extremity as the two Communist giants, but it has its own dire needs. It must defend the sealanes to insure needed supplies of crude oil and iron ore, to say nothing of such minor items as chrome. It must pony up some prodigious investment sums to establish an operative system of power production, which means diverting some of those billions now going into armaments and into the welfare monstrosity that HEW has incubated. So the turn to conciliation with both the Communist giants can be defended even though the long-term danger of building up two potential enemies is obvious.

Since our needs are not quite as pressing as the internal needs of Russia and Red China, we do not have to give too much away in Salt II negotiations and in future wheat deals. The Soviets have made token concessions on the emigration of Jews, and it was hardly an accident that, on the very day that Brezhnev started his conversations in Washington, the 85-year-old painter Marc Chagall, who left Russia way back in 1922, talked to a reporter in Paris about the welcome that had been extended to him, a Jew, during an 11-day visit to the country of his birth.

If the Soviets can forgive Chagall both his race and his Western conception of artistic integrity, which does not accord at all with the cannons of Soviet "realism," they might be brought to discontinue the policy of shipping Jewish dissidents to the 36 corrective labor camps in Mordovia near the Kubyshev railroad. The dreadful things done in these camps have been amply documented by the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in a report which should strengthen Senator Henry Jackson's hand in demanding more humane consideration for minorities inside Russia in exchange for most-favored-nation economic treatment from the U.S.

Then there is the problem of the Indian Ocean, where the U.S. Navy has just opened a communications station on the British-owned island of Diego Garcia to help balance the Soviet naval facilities in Somalia and at the head of the Persian Gulf in Iraq. The announcement of our acquisition of rights to the use of a radio station, an 8,000-foot runway and a small harbor at Diego Garcia was timed for Brezhnev's visit. Given any negotiating finesse, the U.S. is in a position to press for neutralization of the Indian Ocean, which would save both of the naval superpowers a lot of strain.

What will happen if and when the Russians and the Chinese ever get their internal systems to working is worth pondering. But if we must deal with the two Communist giants in order to find the resources and gain the time to rebuild our own energy systems, we should get all that we can in the way of short-term advantages for the free world in the protracted negotiations that will surely follow the Brezhnev visit.

Splake Reproduced

BELLELEVILLE, Ont. (AP) — The annual provincial government sampling of winter fish catches in the Bay of Quinte area this year has shown a high number of splake, a cross between a speckled and lake trout.

A spokesman for the Ministry of Natural Resources, which stocked Lake Ontario with 49,000 splake yearlings in 1972, says the 2,000 splake recovered so far "is an excellent gain in so brief a period."

Circleville High School graduated 74 young men and women at the 80th commencement. Carl V. Weygandt, Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, was speaker.

Two Circleville youths were members of the Northwest Territory caravan. William Kellstadt and James Lyle were touring with the troupe from Massachusetts to the mid-west.

A new structural glass front, black and cream in color, with aluminite trimming was installed in a remodeling project at Pettit's Tire Shop, S. Court St. The program also included expansion into part of the building formerly used by Sieverts' confectionary.

Only one accident was reported over the weekend and that involved two Williamsport youths, Wallace Fullen and Charles Steele. The youths were not injured when their car went left on a curve and struck a telephone pole on Kingston Pike.

Merchandise valued at $15 was stolen from the Charles Carle restaurant, S. Washington St. Items taken included three bottles of wine, a box of stogies and three boxes of cigars, four cartons of cigarettes, five boxes of chewing gum and 12 packages of razor blades.

Chinese Clams Invade

U. S. Waterways

GREENVILLE, Del. (AP)—Scientists at the new Delaware Museum of Natural History here say Chinese clams have disrupted the balance of nature in several major U.S. waterways.

Discovery of the Corbicula manilensis, a clam generally only three-quarters of an inch long, in the Delaware River between Philadelphia and Trenton is reported in the April issue of the museum's journal, Nautilus. The clam multiplies rapidly, crowding out native underwater life because it has no natural enemy in American habitats. The mollusk has never before been seen in the Northeast.

The article also reports Chinese clams in the Savannah River near Millhaven, Ga., and in the Pee Dee River near Society Hill, S.C. How the mollusk was brought to this country is not known, but it was perhaps introduced into California in 1880 by Chinese immigrants from Canton.

Bird Watchers

Count It Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran teams in Cocoa, Fla., and Freeport, Tex., counted the most species of birds in the National Audubon Society's latest bird survey.

The society said each team sighted 209 species within its defined area 15 miles in diameter in the specified 24-hour period last Christmas.

The all-time record was 266 species counted at Christmas 1971 by the Freeport team.

The society, now completing its 73rd annual bird census, said 20,350 bird-watchers participated in a record-setting 1,014 Christmas bird counts in the 50 states, Central America and the West Indies.

In all, more than 775 species were found, the society said. North of the Mexican border, birdwatchers sighted more than 585 species, including 10 specimens of the endangered California condor as well as some Everglade kites, whooping cranes and bald and golden eagles.

High Wire Act

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Birds doing what comes naturally in spring caused the lights to go out in a northside neighborhood.

An electric company spokesman said a birds' nest built on insulators of a high-voltage line caused the power failure.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is so confining. One never gets to do a tenth of the oddball things that occur to his mind.

Walking the treadmill of the daily glory keeps us so busy that the years and our lives slip away, and before we are ready for it we face the Great Confrontation that stills our dreams and footsteps forever.

Even if we lived to be thrice a hundred years old, most of us would never find time to—

Play leapfrog with a kangaroo.

Rattle a rattlesnake.

Get a cat-eared book to put next to the dog-eared books in your library.

Walk down the steps of the Washington Monument backward.

Ride around on the arms of a windmill.

Own a duck farm.

Have a dentist pull out his false choppers to show you how nice yours are going to look.

Fall in love with a barmaid who graduated summa cum laude from Vassar.

Sow crabgrass in the Harvard Yard.
Dunk a doughnut with Margaret Mead.
Find out just how numb a numbskull is.

Steal the hoop from a girl in a hoopskirt.

Wind Big Ben.

Buy a talking horse.

Actually put the eight-ball in the side pocket.

Play backgammon on Raquel Welch's midriff.

Share the expenses of a love nest with a lady income tax collector.

Meet a softshell crab with a hard-nosed attitude.

Erect a new belfry for homeless bats.

But enough of this idle daydreaming, kids. The recess is over. Everybody back to his desk.

Editor's note — Sometimes, after reading a Hal Boyle column, don't you get the feeling that if they ever opened up his head, the room would be full of goosefeathers?

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can you explain the FH factor simply? I have never gotten anything but a confusing explanation.

Mrs. E.E., Tex.

Dear Mrs. E.: Many young married couples are similarly confused when they are told that an RH problem exists in their blood.

Fortunately, many new and remarkable advances have been made in the study of hematology (diseases of the blood) that now reduce the hazards associated with this problem.

RH disorders are recognized early in the pregnancy, and plans can be made to remove most of the dangers to the newborn child.

The blood of most people is classified as RH positive. Relatively few people are "RH negative."

When both the wife and the husband are RH positive, or when they are both RH negative, the baby will not be affected at birth.

If the wife is RH positive, and the husband is RH negative, the baby will not be affected at birth.

It is only in those relatively rare instances when the wife is RH negative and the husband is RH positive that close observation throughout pregnancy becomes important.

In such a situation, if the baby growing in the uterus happens to inherit the father's RH positive factor, a complex interchange takes place between the mother and the baby.

When this occurs, special antibodies are produced in this interchange that may be responsible for anemia and jaundice in the newborn baby.

It is interesting to know that a first-born child is rarely an "Rh baby," even when the mother is RH negative and the father is RH positive. It is only in subsequent pregnancies that the possibility of an RH problem may arise.

There are now ways by which the mother and the child can be protected from the complications formerly associated with RH factor pregnancies.

Young married couples with RH incompatibility can derive great comfort from the medical strides made to overcome this problem.

I have a constant clicking in my ear when I chew on something hard.

My hearing is good, but I am concerned that eventually it may be affected by it.

Miss R. O., Wis.

Dear Miss O.

The sound you describe is probably due to some problem in your jaw joint.

Almost always, this can be traced to some malocclusion, or interference, with proper bite.

There is virtually no possibility that your hearing will be affected by this condition.

It is important that the bite be changed and readjusted by your dentist so that chronic changes in the jaw joint will be prevented.

When jaw joint conditions are overlooked or neglected, erosion of the bone and the cartilage can occur. Then the problem becomes difficult to reverse.

There are now many dentists who specialize in the problems of the Brilliant advances made in this area can readily correct the problem.

New Science

May Be Emerging

CHICAGO (AP) — A new science may be emerging, to be known as "The Science of Survival."

The prediction was made by Richard L. Cheney, a consultant to the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, in a recent talk accepting the glass industry's annual Phoenix Award for outstanding service. The new science, he said, "will draw on all disciplines of modern knowledge to preserve a meaningful existence for man on the planet Earth."

He predicted that scientists will find glass a key instrumentality in preserving the earthly environment and stretching the resources on which the future of people and the quality of life will depend.

Cheney explained that glass is made of raw materials that are in unlimited supply and its manufacture, use and disposal produce virtually no pollution.

Tourism High

HALIFAX (AP) — More than 1.4 million tourists visited Nova Scotia during the 1972 season, an increase of 8.1 per cent over the volume of traffic in 1971.

U.S. visitors made up the bulk of those who brought non-resident vehicles into Nova Scotia. U.S. traffic increased 8.9 per cent.

N.Y. School Chief Blames System For Failures

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvey S. Scribner, who ends a short career as head of the nation's largest school system this week, compares public utilities with public schools and doesn't like the difference.

"When 30 per cent of the lights go out in New York City, we have a power crisis. And within minutes or hours, the public is served," he says.

"Yet when the schools of New York City turn off 30 per cent of their students, who drop out, there is barely a whisper of school reform.

"If change is to come, the public will have to demand it."

As the 58-year-old New Englander sees it, something is extremely wrong with a system of schooling that mandates the attendance of the pupil but doesn't guarantee the performance of the system.

"There is a basic hypocrisy in requiring a student to attend school where he is labeled a failure," he said in an interview.

Scribner, who leaves as chancellor of New York schools June 30, believes the purpose of schools is to help the young comprehend and participate in the world, not to sort the young into social classes and job compartments.

But after 34 months of trying to reform New York's school system, Scribner still finds strong opposition to the suggestion that the schools, not the pupils, are at fault, that with new directions and new policies the schools could do better.

Scribner's views, always propupul and frequently antiestablishment, made him a controversial figure during the time he has been overseer of an educational enterprise that includes some 1.2 million pupils; 113,000 employees, nearly half of whom are teachers; and about 1,000 schools.

Three months after his appointment in 1970, Scribner raised the ire of two organizations of school supervisors by appointing a community-selected black principal for an east Harlem school. The man held a state license but hadn't been licensed by the city.

"Credentialing can be used to keep the outs out," Scribner said.

"Examinations that have nothing to do with the jobs themselves can be biased against minorities and prevent their advancement."

Scribner also is a strong advocate of returning much of the administrative and decisionmaking process to the community. "Local school boards within large cities, parents and even pupils can go a long way toward producing an educational system that can meet the future needs of students," he said.

Last December, Scribner announced he was leaving his $53,000-a-year job when his contract ran out because of a "widening confidence gap" between him and members of the policy-making central Board of Education.

Scribner says he will not be going to another school district, "not because I'm pessimistic. But where do you go after New York?" He is joining the faculty of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

"I intend to fight from within the system," he said. "I'll be working with future administrators. I hope to make them aware of the problems and what can be done to change the schools."

Right To Die With Dignity Eyed By AMA

NEW YORK (AP) — The governing body of the American Medical Association is being asked by its Connecticut delegation to approve a statement by which a person can ask for "the right to die in dignity."

The delegation said the fact that medical technology to prolong life exists does not eliminate the need for "human choices" regarding the use of that technology.

Under the resolution, this statement would be made available to any patient:

"To my family, my physician, my clergyman, my lawyer:

"If the time comes when I can no longer actively take part in decisions for my own future, I wish this statement to stand as the testament of my wishes.

"If there is no reasonable expectations of my recovery from physical or mental and spiritual disability, I request that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by artificial means or heroic measures. I ask also that drugs be mercifully administered to me for terminal suffering even if in relieving pain they may hasten the moment of death. I value life and the dignity of life, so that I am not asking that my life be directly taken but that my dying not be unreasonably prolonged nor the dignity of life be destroyed.

"This request is made, after careful reflection, while I am in good health and spirits. Although this document is not legally binding, you who care for me will, I hope, feel morally bound to take it into account. I recognize that it places a heavy burden of responsibility upon you, and it is with the intention of sharing this responsibility that this statement is made."

The resolution emphasized that the statement is designed only to provide a means by which patients may express their wishes. It said the form should be considered only as an opportunity and individuals should not be urged to sign it.

Irish Republic Installs President

DUBLIN (AP) — The Irish Republic installs an Englishborn Protestant as its fourth president today amid a marked display of religious conciliation.

Erskine Childers, 68, is the second Protestant to hold the presidency of this overwhelmingly Roman Catholic nation but is the first to have won it by election. Dr. Douglas Hyde, the Protestant scholar who was the first president under the 1937 constitution, was appointed unopposed.

While Protestant and Roman Catholics fight in Northern Ireland, leaders of both faiths were to participate in Childers' inauguration.

The ceremony was to take place in Dublin Castle, once the symbol of British rule in Ireland. It was to be preceded by an interdenominational service at St. Patrick's Cathedral led by Dr. George Simms, archbishop of Armagh and primate of the Protestant Church of Ireland.

Archbishop Simms was to be joined by William Cardinal Conway, Roman Catholic primate of Dublin. Presbyterians, Methodists, Lutherans and Quakers also were to participate.

Childers, a former deputy prime minister, was the candidate of the opposition Fianna Fail party in last month's presidential election. He defeated Tom O'Higgins, candidate of the governing National Coalition.

Childers has promised to promote reconciliation with Northern Ireland, where the Protestant majority is intent on keeping its links with Britain.

He has suggested calling an all-Ireland conference to seek steps toward national unity. Whether the idea gets off the ground depends largely on the outcome of this week's elections in Ulster to choose a new provincial assembly.

The new first lady, Mrs. Rita Childers, is a Roman Catholic and a former press attache at the British Embassy in Dublin.

Outgoing President Eamon De Valera, 90 and almost totally blind, left office Sunday at the close of his second seven-year term. He and his 95-year-old wife, Sinead, plan to live out their days in a retirement home run by the Sisters of Charity in south Dublin.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clear skies chased early morning thundershowers out of southeastern Ohio today, but the National Weather Service forecast more rain by Tuesday.

Showers and thundershowers dampened central and southern Ohio early Sunday evening, the weather service said, but by dawn only the southeastern corner of the state still had the wet weather.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 53 at Youngstown to 65 at Cincinnati.

The weather service predicted a weak high pressure front now over the Great Lakes would move eastward in the next couple of days, replacing the stationary system now over central Ohio and Indiana.

Temperatures in the low to mid-80s were forecast for today, with warm air expected to send the mercury into the low 90s in parts of southern Ohio Tuesday.

Postal Rates Are Frozen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service announced Sunday that increases in postal rates for periodicals and other printed matter, scheduled to take effect July 6, will be postponed under the current price freeze.

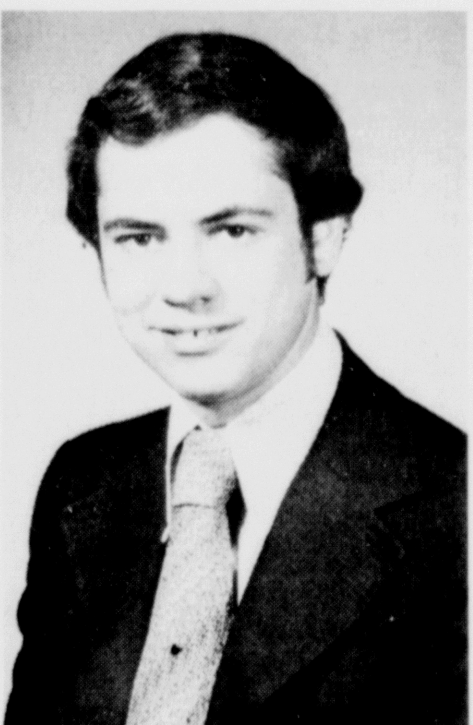

The postal service said it decided not to seek an exemption to the freeze.

The increases had been planned for magazines, newspapers, nonprofit organization material, books and records.

Current postal rate schedules mandated increases for certain classes of mail on July 6 of each year over five and 10-year periods.

The postal service said current rates would remain in effect until further notice.

Miss Margaret Ann Dorsey Bride Of James T. Marshall

MRS. JAMES T. MARSHALL JR.

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Margaret Ann Dorsey and Mr. James T. Marshall Jr., repeated wedding vows 7:30 p.m., June 23rd, in North Church of Christ in Christian Union, Columbus.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Morton Dorsey, Findlay, formerly of Circleville Bible College.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wayne McFarland, Lancaster and Mr. James Marshall Sr., Columbus.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Dorsey, the bride's father and the Rev. David Van Hoose of Circleville. Church decorations included hurricane lamps on the pews and gold sconces with lighted tapers on both sides of the church and vases of white gladioli and carnations on the altar table.

Mr. Pat Duncan of Waverly, vocalist and Miss Marilyn Dean of Carroll, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections preceding the wedding.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who then continued his part in the ceremony. She selected for her wedding a formal length white polyester organza gown. A wide band of Venice lace with three spaced rows of satin ribbon entwined, fashioned the midriff. Matching lace and ribbon enhanced the stand-up collar, extended down the center front and were placed at either side of the front panel. The full sleeves ended with deep cuffs of matching lace and the full skirt over taffeta extended into a full chapel train. A flat bow and lace formed a cap holding her three tiered veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and lilies of the valley.

Miss Patty Dorsey of Circleville Bible College was maid of honor. She wore a gown with a floral patterned skirt over taffeta ending in a deep ruffle around the hemline. The violet bodice featured full chiffon sleeves with deep cuffs.

Bridesmaids and bridesmaids were: Mrs. David Lattimer, Circleville; Mrs. David Edwards, Columbus, Ga., the bridegroom's sister; Miss Betty Dorsey and Miss Janie Dorsey of Findlay, the bride's sisters. They were gowned as the honor attendant and each carried three long stemmed carnations tipped to coordinate with the accent color of her gown.

The bridegroom's uncle, Mr. Roger Wicks of Columbus, was best man. Ushers were the Rev. David Lattimer, Circleville; Mr. David Edwards, Columbus, Ga. and Mr. Russ Bailey, Columbus, Ohio.

The bride's mother was attired in a formal length gown of polyester lined with mint green. The bodice featured chiffon sleeves and tiny beads at the waistline. The bridegroom's mother wore a long dress of mint green chiffon over double knit. Both mother wore corsages of gardenias.

A reception in the Fellowship Hall immediately followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated in purple and turquoise. The color theme was carried out in table decorations, punch and candles.

Hostesses were Mrs. Hope Bowman, Winchester, who baked and served the cake; Mrs. Michael McPherson and Mrs. Roger Wicks, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Alvin Conkev, Chillicothe and Miss Peggy Rickel, Marion, Ind.

Miss Pam Boston, Greenville, Pa., presided at the guest book and Miss Sarah Miller, Findlay, distributed rice to the guests.

As the couple left for a honeymoon in Canada the bride wore a peach outfit with black accessories. They will reside at 4306 S. Harmon, Marion, Ind. 46952.

The new Mrs. Marshall is a graduate of Findlay High School and Circleville Bible College. She is currently a student at Marion College, Indiana and is employed as a secretary to the youth director at World Gospel Mission, Marion, Ind.

Mr. Marshall graduated from Whitehall-Yearling High School, attended Otterbein College and Ohio University. He graduated from Circleville Bible College in 1971, is a member of the U. S. Army Reserves and employed as assistant pastor at Wesleyan Church in Marion, Ind.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: the Rev. Charles Boston and family, Greenville, Pa.; the Rev. David Cowles and family, Marion, Ind. Others were from Findlay, Winchester, Circleville, Ohio and Columbus, Ga.

MRS. CHRISTOPHER STEPHEN CARLSON

Miss Deborah Sue Clem Weds Lt. Christopher S. Carlson

A large arrangement of roses centered the altar and small pier bouquets were placed at either side in Redeemer United Brethren Church in Columbus for the wedding of Miss Deborah Sue Clem and Lt. Christopher Stephen Carlson.

The Rev. William L. Snider performed the double ring ceremony 2:30 p.m. June 23rd. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Clem, Route 1, Orient, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Carlson, Merritt Island, Fla.

Organist, Miss Carole Goodfleisch and vocalist, Miss Margy South, presented a program of music preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a white satin floor length gown enhanced with chantilly lace down the front accented with tiny pearl buttons.

The bodice featured long puffed sleeves and a wedding ring neckline. White satin formed the chapel length train edged in scalloped lace and the bride's elbow length veil was held with a bow of white satin and lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and a small white handkerchief.

Maid of honor, Miss Carol Clem, sister of the bride, was attired in a long gown of blue polyester with short puffed sleeves, round neckline and a bow at the back. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Dona Straley and Miss Cindy Wasson were bridesmaids, gowned as the honor attendant in green. They carried matching bouquets of red roses.

Best man was Lt. Edward C. Koenig III and ushers were, Mr. Joseph D. Clem and Mr. David E. Clem, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a long pink dress with short sleeves, and empire waistline. Small buttons enhanced the front of the bodice.

The bridegroom's mother wore a long gold sleeveless gown with an empire waistline. Gold sequins decorated the waistline and front of the bodice. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

bride wore a white blouse with lavender skirt and vest and a corsage of pink roses. The couple will reside in Palm Bay, Fla.

Mrs. Inez Tucker Tells Auxiliary Of Convention

Mrs. Inez Tucker, vice president of FOE 685 Auxiliary, reported on the State Convention she attended recently in Cleveland during the Thursday evening meeting of the auxiliary in the Aerie Home.

President, Dora Pritchard, announced she had selected Pauline Kennedy as the Auxiliary Mother.

In her talk about the convention Mrs. Tucker said that the Eagles Auxiliary had gained 39,000 new members in the state of Ohio during the past year. Reports were given in charities supported by the auxiliary with Ohio rating favorably with other states.

District 12, which includes Circleville, had challenged District 5 in the new membership drive and the local district won with a comfortable margin.

Discussions at one of the meetings attended by Mrs. Tucker was on new applicants to the auxiliary and the necessity of investigating them thoroughly. Also discussed was proper attire for new members at their initiation.

Following the meeting, ham and cheese sandwiches were served by Mildred Swank and Martha Gulick.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Neither Sensible Nor Cheap

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman who is presently dating a man a few years older than I am. He is loaded with money and takes me to all the finest places. He has a fine automobile, dresses expensively and beautifully, and is very good-looking. He sounds perfect, doesn't he? Well, he would be, except for one fault. He HATES to tip. And I mean he absolutely will not tip anyone a dime for anything unless that person has performed a special service other than what he is being paid to do.

For example: We will go to a restaurant and if this gentleman thinks the food is exceptionally good he will send a $5 bill to the COOK. (He says: "Why tip the waiter? He just serves it.

The cook deserves the tip.") He will tip the waiter only if the waiter gives him extra special service.

Doormen get nothing. ("I can open the door myself," he says.) Captains get nothing. ("He's supposed to show us to our table.") Parking attendants get nothing.

This man claims he is not cheap-just sensible. Do you think he's "sensible" or cheap?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Any man who tips the cook for excellence cannot be considered "cheap." (Too few even think of it.) However, he should realize that many people who perform services depend upon their tips for their bread and butter. I know it shouldn't be that way, but, unfortunately, that's the way it is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 5 foot 7 (stocking feet), 20 years old and am told I have a very beautiful face and figure. My boy friend, who I am beginning to love dearly, is 5 foot 6. David is very handsome, but on the stocky side.

I find that the difference in our height bothers me. I am very uncomfortable when he and I are out together, and I keep hoping we won't run into people we know. When we do, I imagine they are thinking: "My goodness, SHE is taller than HE is!" I realize that a man's height shouldn't be all that important, but I am torn apart worrying about what people think and say about it.

I'm beginning to think it won't work out between David and me. I'm so afraid if I marry him I will always think maybe I have waited for a taller man.

TORN

DEAR TORN: If the one-inch difference in height is such a serious source of concern to you now, you'd be wise to look for a taller fellow. You say a man's height shouldn't be THAT important, but face it, to you it IS!

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago I foolishly shoplifted a small item from a department store. I was caught, arrested, and prosecuted. Now my name is permanently engraved in the police files. Soon I will be looking for a new job, which brings me to my problem. On every job application is the question: "Do you have a police record?" Or: "Have you ever been arrested?" I am not a criminal, and I feel that I have learned my lesson. I don't want to lie, but I don't want to spoil my chances for getting a job.

Should I say "No" to the question? The item I took was worth less than $5, which the store got back anyway, and for which I paid many times over in many ways. Must I pay for this mistake for the rest of my life? If I say "No," could a prospective employer press charges against me for falsifying an application?

Please help Abby. Perhaps your answer could help other people in the same predicament.

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: Don't compound your problem by adding yet another offense to it. Tell the truth, and accept the consequences.

Congressman Harsha's Washington Report

Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev's recent visit to the United States marks the second meeting between President Nixon and the "Chairman" in 13 months. Considering the fact that prior to last year's summit a full 14 years had lapsed between an official meeting of American and Russian heads of state, this event in itself is a remarkable breakthrough.

The agreements reached during this latest summit—while not on the level of the major accords resulting from President Nixon's historic trip to Moscow last year—are extremely significant. Not only do the expanded technological and cultural exchanges promise to benefit both nations, but they also contribute to a further relaxation in the strained relations between Russia and the United States. It is hoped that in the atmosphere of goodwill generated by these pacts, the more serious and critical matters of nuclear disarmament, trade policy and the conflicts in Southeast Asia and the Mideast can be discussed and peaceful solutions eventually reached. Unquestionably, the detente with Russia is a great credit to President Nixon's skillful and highly successful foreign policy initiatives. Moreover, it is an important step toward relieving world tensions.

As the Ranking Minority Member of the House Public Works Committee, which deals with many of this country's transportation matters, I attended the ceremony at which the first of these U. S.—Russian pacts—involving cultural exchanges and the joint research of transportation, farming and oceanography—was signed. In all of these areas, both the United States and Russia stand to gain from the exchange. The agricultural agreement, for example, calls for the exchange of information and estimates on production, consumption, demand and trade in major agricultural commodities and for increased cooperation in agricultural research. Such a program could help U.S. experts better predict the need for future Soviet grain sales, and this type of data could have a direct impact on Ohio farmers and their own grain production.

Under the transportation agreement, the United States may benefit from Russian know-how about operating transportation systems and building bridges and tunnels in extremely cold weather. Specifically, the five-year pact calls for exchange of information about cold weather construction, railway transportation civil aviation, traffic control and safety, and maritime and automobile problems.

Combined with existing and successful exchange programs with Russia on such important common interests as the environment, medicine and space exploration, these new pacts promise to further enhance our relations with that country. However, they do not solve the more serious matters of nuclear disarmament and trade negotiations where we cannot afford to compromise either our defense posture or our economy.

On trade, Mr. Brezhnev is seeking large-scale, long term agreements and conferment of the economically advantageous "most favored nation" trade status with America. Possible trade areas involve Russian natural gas and other resources for modern American technological and agricultural products. I am vitally concerned, particularly in view of the Russian wheat sales last year which contributed to increased food prices in America, that we do not engage in a trade policy tantamount to subsidizing Soviet growth at the expense of the American farmer and consumer.

Nuclear disarmament is perhaps the most important subject of these Nixon-Brezhnev meetings, and what the two leaders discussed will have a great impact on the outcome of the arms limitations talks between the U.S. and Russia. The results of these negotiations, as well as the entire Brezhnev visit, promise to have a lasting effect on the warming of relations between the United States and Russia—two great superpowers who must work seriously toward peaceful co-existence in this nuclear age, particularly if we are to have a "generation of peace" in the years ahead.

Man Given Probation For Manslaughter

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Lloyd Harris, 58, was placed on probation for three years on a manslaughter charge Friday and told by a judge to go break his arm.

Harris, who vowed never to drink again, told Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge William S. Mathews he stabbed Louis Shepherd, 61, to death, because of a drinking problem. "If you want to stay out of prison," the jurist said, "break your arm at the elbow so it won't bend."

Park Won't Fight U.N.

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park of South Korea changed direction Saturday and said he would not oppose the separate admission of South and North Korea to the United Nations.

Park added, however, that such a move should not cause "hindrance to our national unification" and that his new policy does not "signify our recognition of North Korea as a state."

The South Korean government, established Aug. 15, 1948, following general elections supervised by the United Nations, has claimed to be the only lawful government on the peninsula.

It has objected to participation of North Korea in many international agencies and organizations where South Korea retains membership.

The U.N. Security Council set a precedent for admitting divided nations by recommending unanimously Friday that West and East Germany become U.N. members. The General Assembly is expected to vote them in this fall.

3 Companies Fined For Polluting Streams

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — The State Department of Natural Resources said Friday three companies have been fined in local courts for polluting Ohio streams.

The Wellman Power and Gas Co. of Old Fort was fined $500 with $300 fines for polluting Indiana Creek.

Spined of 100 were levied against David A. Waldron and Associates, Inc., of Wooster, for polluting Monday Creek in Perry County and the An-Car Col Co. of Boston, Mass., for contaminating water in Wayne National Forest near Athens.

State Faces Big Highway Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans will be driving 64 per cent more miles in the next 20 years—and enjoying it less, reports the Road Information program in Washington D.C.

Included in the pessimistic findings of the federally financed study were:

—Ohio motorists will log 92 billion vehicle miles in 1990, traveling on a state road system only 12 per cent larger than it is now.

—Cars are multiplying twice as fast as people in Ohio. By 1990, about 8.8

million vehicles will roll along Ohio roads, compared with six million now.

—Ohio is spending one-eighth the money on road improvements it needs to meet federal standards.

—An increasing number of Ohio's privately-owned public transit companies are on the brink of bankruptcy, while rush-hour traffic congestion steadily worsens.

Ohio needs to spend about $1.4 billion a year in road improvements, the report said. Currently, it spends about $200 million per year.

Sixty per cent should go for local roads and streets, the report continued, and public transportation systems should be given a top priority.

About a dozen Ohio cities have either taken over local transit operations or formed regional authorities to assume responsibility for public transit.

Such regional authorities are eligible for financial help from demonstration grants and state mass transit aid, the road information report said.

One state, Virginia already is experimenting with an express busway system for commuters to and from Washington D. C.

The busway utilizes a reserve lane in the center of a major interstate highway to bypass nine miles of congested traffic. Bus riders save up to 30 minutes over the average auto commuting time. The number of riders has jumped by nearly 400 per cent in the past three years.

At least five other metropolitan areas have taken Virginia's cue and are now experimenting with their own busways.

Steel Boom Said Mostly Profitless

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The nation's steel industry is amid its biggest boom but "is locked by presidential decree into a prosperity that's either profitless or nearly so," Industry-Week said today.

The weekly magazine said price increases which had been scheduled for June 17 on steel sheets and strips were suspended for 60 days by President Nixon's price freeze.

These products, which comprise about 45 per cent of the output of the nation's mills "had been unchanged in price since January 1972, and the industry had looked to a price increase to help it do better than earn slim profits," the magazine reported. Since the last price rise, costs have risen sharply, and steel workers will get another pay hike of 12.5 cents an hour, plus additional fringe benefits Aug. 1 "before the 60-day price freeze ends," it added.

Meanwhile, steel firms report there is no slackening in demand. "Order backlogs are at record high levels and are growing at those firms which have opened fourth quarter order books," Industry Week said.

"Most steel company executives and analysts now agree that B.S. mill shipments for 1973 will reach a record of at least 106 million net tons."

Spring-Fed Well Water Best, Cincinnati Residents Believe

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Weary travelers with thirsty throats have discovered an oasis near this southern Ohio town—a spring-fed well full of clear, cold water.

The well, called the Old Watering Trough, originates from an underground spring on a farm owned by Edward Miller on Tylersville Road, east of Bypass Ohio Route 4.

Miller says the well was a popular stop for farmers driving their cattle to Hamilton or Cincinnati.

"Nobody knows who started it," said Miller, 69. He says a 93-year-old neighbor claims the well has been there as long as he can remember.

"I've been drinking that water since I was six years old," said Miller.

Another enthusiast, Randy Smith of Western Hills, says "It's really good water. I'm from West Virginia. It's pretty hard to adjust to the water in Cincinnati."

Susan Kelly of Westwood said that "after I got used to it I couldn't drink Cincinnati water."

The water trough is a rectangular cement container. There are spaces for cars to pull off the road.

The well was originally housed in an iron trough.

"We've been coming up here for seven years," said John Pelfrey, Cincinnati, whose family frequently drives up to drink the water.

John's daughter Georgia expresses it this way: "We just take a bath in Cincinnati water, that's all."

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

A joint conference committee began work this week on resolving the differences between the House and Senate versions of Ohio's biennial appropriations bill.

In a session which adjourned at 1:30 a.m. last Friday the House refused to concur with the Senate version of the budget previously passed by the House. The refusal to concur was a direct effect of the Senate changing several of the priorities in the budget as established in the House. Cuts in the appropriations to such areas as Environmental Protection, Natural Resources, and Mental Health and Retardation has greatly concerned members of the House.

It is hoped that the conference committee can reach an agreement acceptable to most members of the General Assembly before July 1, when the current budget expires.

The House this week approved legislation to remove the state's prohibition against Sunday sales, commonly referred to as the "Blue Laws."

Enforcement of the statutes have varied across the state. Unchanged are portions of the law that prohibit Sunday hunting and restrict Sunday liquor sales. Trap shooting would be permitted on Sunday by the bill.

The proposal now goes to the Senate for its consideration.

A proposal allowing local governments to remove abandoned service stations was approved by the House and sent to the Senate. Whenever a service station is constructed or operated in Ohio, the bill would require a bond be posted with either the state or local government. The bond would be returned upon the removal of the station. If the owner of the property did not remove the station, the bond could be used to pay the local government to do so.

The "Omnibus Retirement Bill" which improves retirement benefits of public employees was approved by the House.

Main features of the legislation include lowering the years of service required for retirement with maximum benefits under the three large state retirement systems, the Public Employees Retirement System (PERS), the State Teachers Retirement System (STRS), and the School Employees Retirement System (SERS). The present requirement of 35 years of service would be reduced to 32 years to receive full benefits.

The bill also permits the purchase of hospital and medical care insurance for retirees of PERS, STRS, SERS, and by Police and Firemen's Disability and Pension Fund (PDPF), and the State Highway Patrol Retirement System (SHPRS).

The Senate has approved legislation which would increase benefits to the surviving spouses and children of firemen and policemen. The proposal increases monthly payments from $130 to $160 for a surviving spouse and from $45 to $55 for children.

The bill also revises the formula for calculating benefits, basing them on the three years of highest earnings rather than the five years.

A bill to implement a state lottery was introduced this week in the House, which allows the operation of a state lottery to begin as soon as is practical and possible. Under its provisions, five individuals appointed by the Governor would serve on a State Lottery Commission. Their terms would be staggered and they would receive no compensation other than expenses.

The State Lottery Commission would decide: the type of lottery to be conducted; the price of tickets in the lottery; the number and size of prizes; and the location at which lottery tickets could be sold.

7 Ohioans Are Drowned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"The Pit" in the Great Miami River claimed four more victims over the weekend, raising the total drowned there in the last five years to 25.

The victims were among seven Ohioans who lost their lives in drowning accidents over the weekend.

"The Pit," according to Whitewater Township Fire Chief James Burns, is at the confluence of the Great Miami and Whitewater rivers in western Hamilton County.

The rivers create a whirlpool in a deep, underwater pit. He said he doesn't expect the pool to give up the bodies before Monday or Tuesday night.

David Roach, 19, of Cincinnati was one of two people who drowned Sunday while firemen were searching for the bodies of two men drowned in the same place Saturday night.

The second victim, of Norwood, was not immediately identified.

Burns said the pool, under the U.S. 50 bridge, normally is marked with signs warning swimmers of the "treacherous" water, but "the signs were carried away by high water."

Drowned there Saturday night were Ralph Hensley, 23, of Cincinnati, and Kenneth Hatton, 35, of Newport, Ky.

In drownings elsewhere, Scott Born, 7½, drowned Sunday in a water filled quarry in Salisbury Park near Kenton. The boy had been camping there with his parents.

Near Springfield, Dennis S. Hostetter, 30, drowned in a flooded gravel pit in western Clark County Sunday.

Ronnie Whitaker, 21, of Mount Orab, drowned early Sunday morning in a boating accident on Lake Grant in Brown County.

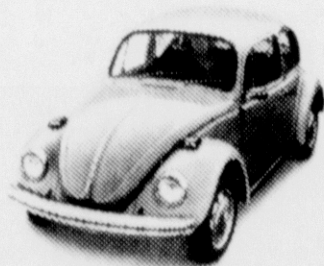

Fair Weather Covers U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers and thundershowers dampened widely scattered areas early today while most of the nation enjoyed fair weather.

A cold front with accompanying showers moved into the Pacific Northwest. Locally heavy thunderstorms erupted over the north central states.

Flash flood warnings were issued Sunday night for southeastern Illinois, but the danger passed by early morning. Showers and thundershowers continued to linger from the Tennessee and eastern Ohio River valleys to the Atlantic coast states. Southeast Texas was cloudy and wet.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q) For years, I've been taking pictures as a hobby. I have thousands of dollars worth of photographic equipment and a darkroom in my basement. Some years I turn a profit, but most years I lose money. At what point does my hobby become a business so that I can deduct my expenses from my other income?

(A) The most important feature of a "business" is that it's entered into and carried on for a profit. In general, the IRS presumes that an activity is a business if it produces a profit in any of five consecutive years after 1969. If your activity fails to qualify as a business, you may not use your losses to offset income from other sources. However, hobby expenses are generally deductible to the extent of your earnings from the activity. In addition, some expenses, such as taxes, interests, and casualty losses are deductible, whether or not you incur them in an activity engaged in for profit.

There are special rules for horse breeding, training, showing or racing. There is also a provision of the law under which a taxpayer may suspend application of the IRS presumption of business activity. These rules are explained in IRS Publication 535, "Tax Information on Business Expenses." Write your Internal Revenue district office for a free copy.

(Q) Is the cost of birth control pills deductible as a medical expense?

(A) Yes, if the pills are prescribed by a physician, the cost is deductible as a medical expense. Payments for the pills, along with those for other medicines and drugs, are included in medical expenses to the extent they exceed one percent of your income. Your total medical expenses are deductible only to the extent they exceed three percent of your income.

(Q) I'm in a National Guard unit that meets one weekend a month at an Armory. Can I deduct transportation expenses from my home to drills and back?

(A) When meetings are held within the general area of what is considered your home for tax purposes, the cost of transportation from your residence to Guard meetings is a commuting expense and is not deductible. But, if the meetings are held outside the general area of your tax home, transportation costs are deductible.

If a Guard meeting is held after work, you may deduct the cost of going directly from your regular place of employment to meetings.

4 Taken Hostage At Prison; Inmate Demands Under Study

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three Kentucky State Penitentiary convicts released four hostages unharmed today after holding them for 18 hours in the canteen of the fortresslike prison in Western Kentucky.

The three surrendered and turned in two long knives and a soldering tool they had used to hold a prison guard, civilian employee and two inmates.

The three made a series of written demands and among the major ones was a transfer to the state reformatory at LaGrange.

The hostages were taken home immediately, except for the two inmates. They said they had been generally well treated although they looked shaken.

Authorities of the prison, on the banks of the Cumberland River, identified the three convicts as Jerry Tingle, 20, of Carrollton, under a five-year sentence for storehouse breaking; Gerald Fair, 24, of Lexington, sentenced to ten years for armed assault with intent to rob; and Danny Lee Dobson, 23, of Louisville, serving 18 years for storehouse breaking and holding a hostage.

Authorities said Dobson and Tingle were among five prisoners who held several hostages about nine months ago in a similar episode. Tingle has not yet been tried for that incident.

Corrections Commissioner Charles Holmes flew from Frankfort during the night to the prison, 250 miles away, to "get things moving" after a deadlock ensued between the three convicts and prison officials.

Holmes refused to talk to the prisoners until the hostages were released. Conversations were carried out mainly by telephone, although guards occasionally approached the door of the canteen to exchange words.

Delegates Serve In Government Of Girls' State

In the past week at Buckeye Girls' State held at Capital University in Columbus, five area girls were appointed to participate in government offices of the mythical two party system.

Bonnie Jan Bolender, Route 4, Circleville served as a Representative from James City in Horton County as a member of the Nationalist party.

Meredith Ann Barr, Ashville, was appointed as Senate Page. She resided in the city of Bickerdye in Clinger County, representing the Federalist party.

Karen Steinhauser, Route 3, Circleville, served on the Board of Elections. She resided in the city of Sherman in Killworth County and was a member of the Federalist party.

Sue Milburn, 323 Meadow Lane, Circleville was Executive Secretary to the Secretary of State. Miss Milburn was a resident of Storer in Logan County and was associated with the Federalist party.

Roxanne Stir, Route 2, Ashville filled the position of City Fire Chief. She resided in the city of Green in Horton County, belonging to the Federalist party.

Girls' State, sponsored each year by the American Legion Auxiliary, ended this weekend. This largest project of the auxiliary is designed to introduce and educate the citizen of tomorrow in our form of democracy.

Snake Handlers Ignore Court Ban

SWITZER, W. Va. (AP) — A baby was the only quiet thing during the sweltering, swaying three and a half hour service at the Full Gospel Jesus Church.

Even the poisonous snakes made their presence known, the rattlers sending up an occasional ominous buzzing with their tails from the cages beside the pulpit.

About 100 persons praised the Lord at the top of their lungs and with all of their energy in the neat cement block building sandwiched between the Royal Crown Bottling Co. and the Mico Drive-In in this little town just south of Logan.

Cymbals, two drums, a tambourine and four guitars—two of them electric and one with a Confederate flag decal—accompanied the spirited singing of such songs as "Give Me That Old-Time Religion" and "You Gotta Move."

The building rocked and the crowd reached fever pitch during the singing of the latter song, and frenzied devotees showed their faith by brazenly handling the serpents.

Twice during the long Sunday afternoon about half the congregation

Explosions Damage Holiday Inn Site

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Suburban Independence police said they were investigating two explosions which caused $50,000 damage at a Holiday Inn construction site Sunday.

Police said the two blasts rattled dishes in nearby homes but apparently only damaged concrete room forms at the rear of the site.

Percy Backs Independence Of President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., warned Sunday against any efforts by either the Senate Watergate committee or a grand jury to subpoena the President to testify.

Such a move, if successful, Percy said, "would weaken both the executive branch and the doctrine of the separation of powers, by placing the President at the beck and call of Congress."

"From then on the Congress could demand that the President appear before it for the purpose of giving testimony whenever it so desired."

"The price of that subordination would be too high," he said.

Percy has been one of the leading Republican critics of President Nixon's handling of Watergate. His comments were in a speech entitled, "Watergate and the Constitution" scheduled to be delivered in the Senate Monday but made public Sunday night.

He repeated his earlier statements that all Watergate facts should be revealed. But he declared that, as the pressure for action increases, "we should resist the temptation to distort constitutional principles to fit the needs of the moment."

led the way in picking up and handling the snakes, some of them over four feet long, as if they were the tamest of pets.

The elder Williams cited New Testament authority, the 17th and 18th verses of the 16th chapter of Mark, for the action.

Those scriptures say: "And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they

Fulbright Applauds Detente

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Sunday there were more than superficial gains at the summit conferences of President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

"I don't think it's cosmetic," he said. It was a "long time in developing."

The Arkansas Democrat said agreements to avoid nuclear war signed by the two leaders indicated "some degree of trust, a highly rational approach."

He said he hopes pressure will be exerted in Congress to cut the defense budget after the agreements.

"It's just inconceivable what we have overspent in this area," he said.

Asked if he thinks the Pentagon would accept cuts, he said, "There are a lot of people who are very suspicious."

He spoke on the ABC-TV program, "Issues and Answers."

LEGAL NOTICE

TO ALL PRESENT AND FORMER ANNUAL RATE REGULAR POSTAL EMPLOYEES AND THE REPRESENTATIVES OF DECEASED ANNUAL RATE REGULAR POSTAL EMPLOYEES REGARDING POSSIBLE ENTITLEMENT TO BACK WAGES

This notice is published in conformity with a Consent Order entered August 26, 1971 by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in settlement of Civil Actions Nos. 3593-69 and 3595-69. Its purpose is to bring this settlement to the attention of all persons who were full-time annual rate regular employees of the United States Postal Service (as used herein the term "Postal Service" includes the former Post Office Department) at any time between approximately March 4, 1966 and January 7, 1972, as well as representatives of such employees who are now deceased. The settlement involves the recovery of back wages for overtime under Public Law 89-301, for temporary re-scheduling under the conditions set forth under paragraph I-A below. This notice is intended to advise such persons of their rights regarding this matter. It should be read carefully.

The lawsuits described above were filed on December 19, 1969 as "class actions" on behalf of all such present and former annual rate regular postal employees. The named plaintiffs in these suits are certain individual postal employees and the following postal labor unions: American Postal Workers Union, AFL-CIO; Mail Handlers Division of the Laborers' International Union, AFL-CIO; and the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO.

I. SUMMARY OF THE CONSENT ORDER ENTERED IN THE "CLASS ACTIONS"

The Consent Order establishes rules regarding the payment of back wages to those present and former postal employees (or the representatives of deceased postal employees) who were entitled to, but did not receive, time and one-half for work performed outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change as set forth below. A complete statement of these rules is not set forth in this notice. The following rules represent only the basic conditions which apply to claims. Detailed Operating Instructions and the Consent Order will be available to potential claimants, as indicated in paragraph E below.

A. Qualification for Back Wages under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. For the period from approximately March 4, 1966 to January 7, 1972, annual rate regulars were entitled to overtime wages under Public Law 89-301 for work performed during days or hours outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change, unless the schedule change occurred while they were occupying any of the following positions: (1) postmaster; (2) rural carrier; (3) postal inspector; (4) road duty employee (as defined in 39 U.S.C. Sec. 3581 (1962)); (5) substitute employee; (6) hourly rate regular employee; (7) annual rate regulars who, between March 4, 1965 and July 29, 1966, were in salary level PFS-8 and above; (8) annual rate regulars who, between July 29, 1966 and October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-11 and above; (9) annual rate regulars who, after October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-12 and above or equivalent levels.

2. Any temporary schedule change on the part of an annual rate regular which was not made at his request for his convenience is a "required schedule change" for which the employee is entitled to overtime compensation for work performed outside of his regular schedule, without regard to the nature of the work performed under the temporary schedule. Temporary schedule changes made at an employee's request for his convenience are not compensable at the overtime rate.

B. Claims Procedure under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. The Consent Order establishes procedures for the filing of claims by present employees, former employees and the representatives of deceased employees who assert entitlement to overtime back wages under paragraph A above.

2. Claims Procedure for Present Employees (a) As soon as practical after July 30, 1973, all present employees will be notified by their installation head that their time records are available for examination. In most cases these records date back to the first pay period in which regular work schedules were assigned under Public Law 89-301, and end with the pay period terminating on January 7, 1972.

(b) Each present employee is entitled to be excused from his normal tour of duty for up to one hour to review his time records and will be compensated for that hour at his straight time rate of compensation. In addition, he may remove his records from the installation for the purpose of such review.

(c) Special claim forms will be available in all postal installations. It will be necessary for the employee to indicate on the claim form those hours for which he believes he is entitled to recover overtime back wages.

(d) An employee's failure to file a claim with his installation head within 90 days of receipt of notice that his time records are available for inspection will waive his right to present a claim. However, upon good cause shown, the time for filing a claim shall be extended.

(e) An employee may submit a claim even though his time records are no longer available.

(f) After an employee has submitted his claim, the local installation head will review it to determine whether the claim should be approved for payment. If the claim is denied, the employee will be entitled to appeal.

3. Procedure for Former Employees and the Representatives of Deceased Employees

Essentially, the same rules apply to claims by former employees and representatives of deceased employees, with the following exceptions:

(a) The Postal Service will attempt to notify former annual rate regulars of their rights in this matter by forwarding a copy of this notice to their last known address on file with the United States Civil Service Commission or the appropriate Postal Service Data Center.

(b) Any former employee, or the representative of a deceased employee, who receives this notice from the Postal Service by mail must request access to the employee's time records in writing within 60 days of receiving such notice or waive his right to present a claim.

(c) Any former employee, or the representative of a deceased employee, who does not receive a copy of this notice from the Postal Service by mail must request access to the employee's time records within three years of July 1, 1973, or waive his right to present a claim.

(d) The time records of former employees are located at the post offices and postal installations where these employees worked. Accordingly, a former employee or a representative of a deceased employee may request access to such records (1) by visiting, or writing directly to, the head of each post office or postal installation where the employee was employed, or (2) by asking any local postmaster for assistance in obtaining such records. When making the request, a former employee must identify himself as a former postal employee who is requesting access to his time records under the "Consent Order Procedure," and must state his name, social security number, and the post office(s) or postal installation(s) where he worked. The representative of a deceased employee should follow the same procedure with regard to the deceased employee involved and must also indicate on what basis he or she is acting as the deceased employee's representative.

(e) Upon receiving notice from the Postal Service that the records are available for examination, a former employee or the representative of a deceased employee must submit his claim as provided in paragraphs B2(c)-(f) of this notice.

C. Notification of Determination of Claims

1. The installation head or his designee will notify the claimant in writing of the disposition of his claim within 90 days of the date the claim is filed. Failure to notify the claimant of a determination of the claim within 90 days will constitute automatic approval of the entire claim. If a claim is denied, the decision will state the reason(s) for denial.

2. If, within 30 days of receipt of the written decision regarding the claim, the claimant fails to advise the Postal Service official who signed the decision that he either (1) accepts the decision in full, or (2) rejects the decision in full, he will be deemed to have accepted the decision in full.

3. If the claimant rejects the decision, he may appeal in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Operating Instructions.

4. Employees who remain part of the class and also remain represented by counsel for the named plaintiffs shall be bound by such counsel's decisions regarding the settlement or other disposition of claims.

D. Payment of Claims

When a final decision has been made to pay the claim, the claimant will promptly receive payment from the Postal Service in accordance with the decision.

E. Additional Information

Additional information regarding the contents of this notice may be obtained from Donald M. Murtha, Esquire, counsel for plaintiffs, Department P, Suite 703, 1828 L Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. A copy of the Consent Order may be obtained by writing to Mr. Clyde Wilson, Claims Administrator, Room 3532, U.S. Postal Service Headquarters, 12th & Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20260. The Operating Instructions and claim forms will be available in postal installations when the claims procedure is implemented.

II. ELECTIONS AVAILABLE TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS

The Consent Order declares that the named plaintiffs are proper representatives of the entire class of present and former postal employees entitled to recover overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301. Under the Consent Order and Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, members of the class are entitled to be advised that the following elections are available to them: A. Any person who claims entitlement to overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301, but does not wish to participate in this "class action" litigation will, if he requests exclusion, be excluded by the court from the class action insofar as his individual claim is not within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2). Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Such exclusion must be requested by letter addressed to the undersigned at P.O. Box 978, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C.

20044, postmarked not later than midnight, July 15, 1973. Any person who does not elect to be so excluded will be fully bound by the settlement in this litigation. A person who elects to be so excluded from the class will be free, subject to the adjudication of issues within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to pursue whatever individual legal remedies he may have. If he should independently recover back wages under Public Law 89-301, he may nevertheless be required under law to pay attorney fees to the counsel who initiated these "class actions."

B. If a person does not so request exclusion from the class by July 15, 1973, he will automatically be included in the class, and his entitlement will be determined under the Consent Order and any subsequent orders the court may enter in the matter, and he will be bound thereby.

C. If any such person does not request exclusion from this "class action" litigation, but elects to be represented by his own counsel rather than by counsel for the named plaintiffs, his counsel must enter an appearance in this litigation not later than July 15, 1973.

III. FINAL HEARING PRIOR TO THE COURT ENTERING PARTIAL FINAL JUDGMENT

The Consent Order referred to under I above was entered into with a view to effecting the expeditious processing of all the individual claims involved in this class-action litigation. The Court has now preliminarily entered (in accordance with Rule 23(d), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) a further Order and Decision implementing the Consent Order, which (1) approves the detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order; and (2) determines several legal issues incident to implementation of the Consent Order, as to which parties were unable to reach agreement. (The detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order have now been designated "Back Pay Claims Instructions, etc.") The Court will conduct a Final Hearing on all issues which have been decided by the Court in this litigation, in Courtroom 22, United States Court House, 3d Street and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. at 10:00 a.m. on July 30, 1973. Any person claiming to be a member of the class who wishes to be heard in this matter by an attorney other than the attorneys who represent the original plaintiffs in this litigation, will be afforded due opportunity to be heard thereat by his attorney, provided his attorney so notifies the undersigned Clerk of Court in writing prior to July 15, 1973.

The Court will upon conclusion of that hearing enter an order effecting partial Final Judgment disposing of all issues which have been decided as of the date of such Final Judgment, subject to the Court, upon being advised by the parties that all aspects of the controversy have been settled, entering the Final Judgment contemplated by the Consent Order, as heretofore amended.

The parties have reached agreement to submit to final and binding arbitration, individual disputes remaining upon conclusion of the U.S. Postal Service's processing and decision as to the individual claims, in lieu of court proceedings thereafter.

The Consent Order and Implementing Order and Decision and the parties' agreement for final and binding arbitration as finally approved by the Court upon conclusion of the indicated Final Hearing will govern the processing of all individual claims, including any arbitration proceedings.

IV. COUNSEL FEES AND EXPENSES

The matter of counsel fees and expenses for services heretofore rendered by counsel bringing this action and of counsel fees and expenses for services which may be rendered hereafter by original or other counsel will be determined by the Court after the date of the Final Hearing.

V. COMMUNICATION WITH COURT TO BE ONLY BY PLEADING OR MOTION

Any person wishing further information about this litigation may communicate with Donald M. Murtha, Esq. counsel for plaintiffs, whose address is set forth under IE above. All communication with the Court shall be by formal pleading or motion, with copies thereof served upon counsel for the parties. PLEASE DO NOT WRITE OR CALL THE COURT.

Bruce Crampton Wins American

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —Bruce Crampton is looking for a million dollars. It's just a matter of time before the Australian veteran happily embraces that magic figure in career earnings.

"I think I can safely expect to go past the million this year," Crampton chuckled after winning the $32,000 first prize Sunday in the American Golf Classic.

His scrambling 68 in the final round—he missed seven greens and saved par on five of them—nailed down his fourth victory of the season and pushed his earnings for the year to $204,209.

The 37-year-old veteran of 17 years on the American pro tour became the first foreigner ever to go past $200,000 in a single season and he vaulted past Jack Nicklaus into the No. 1 spot on the season's money list.

Further, he pushed his career earnings to $995,652, just $4,348 short of joining Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino as the game's only $1 million winners.

"It's a tremendous feeling," said Crampton, who was flanked by wife Joan and son Jay, "The money and the titles are important of course, but there's a tremendous feeling of personal satisfaction to know that I have competed so successfully over here."

Crampton won by three strokes with 273 total, seven under par on the 7,180 yard Firestone Country Club course.

Veteran Gay Brewer, Lanny Wadkins and Bob Murphy were next at 276. Murphy closed up with a 67, Wadkins had a 68 and Brewer 71.

Tom Weiskopf and Forrest Fezler, the 23-year-old tour sophomore who had led through the first three rounds, were next at 277. Weiskopf had a 73 and Fezler took a 75.

Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were in a group at 280, seven strokes back.

Dodgers Blast Cincy Reds, 5-2

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

In case you were wondering, Ken McMullen still works for the Los Angeles Dodgers. And if you don't believe it, just ask the Cincinnati Reds.

McMullen, all but totally absent from the Los Angeles scene this season, appeared out of the deep recesses of the Dodger dugout and destroyed the Reds during the weekend.

The veteran third baseman ripped his second homer in as many days Sunday and drove in three runs in Los Angeles' 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

McMullen's hot weekend helped Los Angeles open a fivegame bulge over San Francisco in the NL West. Steve Garvey also homered for the Dodgers and Al Downing won his sixth game in nine decisions.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Houston swept a doubleheader from San Francisco, 7-6 and 8-3, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-4, New York defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Chicago shut out St. Louis 2-0 and Atlanta beat San Diego 6-1.

Doug Radar's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning drove in Houston's winning run in the first game against the Giants and then the Astro third baseman contributed a homer and a two-run double to the nightcap victory.

Cesar Cedeño tagged a grand slam in the first game but the Giants wiped out a six-run Houston lead on a pair of three-run homers by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey before Radar's infield single decided the issue.

In the second game, the Astros snapped a 1-1 tie with two runs in the seventh and then Radar homered in the eighth and added two more RBIs with a double in the four-run ninth.

Philadelphia got solo homers from Tommy Hutton, Bob Boone and Cesar Tovar to defeat Montreal. The Expos made it close on Ken Singleton's three-run homer in the eighth but Billy Wilson saved the victory for Jim Lonborg.

Atlanta's hitters couldn't do much about San Diego's Steve Arlin, managing just one hit off the pitching dentist for seven innings. But Arlin got in trouble with a couple of walks in the eighth and Ralph Garr tagged him for a grand slam home run that helped the Braves beat the Padres.

Arlin was leading 1-0 before Garr's shot turned the game around for Atlanta.

Glenn Beckert's two-run pinch single broke up a scoreless tie and moved the Chicago Cubs past St. Louis. Milt Pappas throttled the Cardinals on just five hits. The Cubs managed just two against Tom Murphy until their winning rally in the eighth.

Ed Kranepool drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and Tom Seaver pitched New York to its victory over Pittsburgh.

The Pirates' only runs came on Willie Stargell's 22nd home run of the season in the first inning.

Fisticuffs Mar AL Competition

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

There's some bad feelings between Brewers and the Kansas City Royals and Texas Rangers, but for feeling bad about the plight of the Detroit Tigers?

The Indians and Brewers, Royals and Rangers added some extra-curricular fisticuffs to their scheduled baseball activities Sunday while the only thing the Tigers added was two more losses, their sixth and seventh in a row.

When the swinging and shouting were done, the red-hot New York

Yankees had won a doubleheader from the Tigers 3-2 and 2-1, the Brewers had outslugged the Indians 8-3, the Royals had whipped the Rangers twice 7-4 and 10-6, the Orioles had dropped a 1-0 squeaker to the Boston Red Sox, the Angels had defeated the Twins 3-0 after dropping the opener 5-1 and the Chicago White Sox recovered from a 7-0 drubbing by the Oakland A's to take the nightcap 11-1.

Darrell Porter and Tim Johnson drove in two runs apiece in the fight-marred fifth inning and George Scott homered in the sixth as the Brewers turned back the Indians.

Both benches and bullpens emptied after Milwaukee's Bob Coluccio was thrown out in a collision at the plate and had words with Cleveland catcher John Ellis. When they started for each other, Brewer third baseman Don Money jumped in and started fighting with Ellis.

The melee ended quickly and Ellis and Coluccio were ejected, but several players streamed onto the field again moments later when Milwaukee's Pedro Garcia started for the mound after a pitch from Ray Lamb sailed near his head.

In Kansas City, Ed Kirkpatrick of the Royals was ejected from the second game after engaging in a brief fight with Texas pitcher Lloyd Allen.

Kirkpatrick went from first to third on Lou Pinella's two-run single in the first inning and tried to score when Pinella was trapped rounding first. Allen covered home plate in the ensuing rundown and when he tagged Kirkpatrick, the KC player swung at him and they exchanged punches with both benches emptying.

Cookie Rojas drove in the winning run in the opener as no-hit Steve Busby notched his first win since May 4. Rookie Frank White singled home the winner in the nightcap as the Royals moved into first place in the West Division by one game over Chicago and Oakland and 1½ over Minnesota and California.

Pinch hitter Winston Llenas lashed a two-run bases-loaded single in the ninth inning following a two-out error by Minnesota second baseman Rod Carew and Vada Pinson added a run-scoring single, pacing the Angels to victory over the Twins in their nightcap. The Twins took the opener as dropped flies by Angel left fielder Richie Scheinblum and first baseman Mike Epstein made three of their five runs unearned.

Can-Am Drawings Reset For Today

Saturday's scheduled drawing for post position in the $50,300 Can-Am Pacing North American Championship race Thursday night at Scioto Downs was postponed until today due to an injury to one of the eight finalists.

During a Saturday noon press luncheon at Scioto's Penthouse, Director of Racing John Phillips received a phone call informing him that Saumon O Mouette had been injured in the final leg of the series Friday night at Northville Downs.

The owners of Saumon O Mouette have until 9 a.m. today to make a final decision on their entry. In case the horse doesn't run, the first of the two also eligibles, Hortense Barmin, will be moved into the series final and the post position drawings will be completed.

Hitters Feature Slow Pitch Tilts

American Legion downed the Kingston Merchants, 11-9, Circleville Independents topped Morgan's Sporting Goods, 7-5, Circleville Merchants No. 1 bombed General Electric, 22-0, and Spurlock Construction outscored the Scioto Elks, 20-11, in slow pitch softball action Sunday at Ted Lewis Park.

Bill McGowan was the winning hurler as the American Legion captured first round honors. Gary Mogan and Dave Kraft slammed two hits apiece to pace the Legion attack.

Lester Smith and Greg Roll combined to hurl the Independents to victory over Morgan's. Ty Ankrom rapped three hits and Kelly Boyer smashed a home run for the winners. Chuck Pritchard was on the hill for Morgan's and also cracked a four-bagger.

Duke Weffler was the winning pitcher for the Circleville Merchants No. 1 and aided his own cause with four hits, including a home run. Roger McConnell blasted a pair of home runs with Jim Daft and Don Schroeder each adding a round tripper. Ron Hawkes was the losing pitcher.

Jerry Owens hurled the win for Spurlock over the Scioto Elks. Rick Swank ripped four hits for the winners and Chuck Jackson and Glenn Hunter slammed a home run apiece. McCauley, Bobby Jones, Hodge Dade and Emmett Dade each had a home run for the Elks.

Florida Wins NCAA Golf Championship

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — The nation's top collegiate golfers ran into pitfalls at every turn on the Stillwater Country Club course here over the weekend, but the Florida Gators and Texas' Ben Crenshaw kept their cool and took home the honors.

Florida weathered a strong Oklahoma wind and the tricky par 70 course to defeat host Oklahoma State by 10 strokes and grab the Gators' second NCAA golf championship.

The USGA 1973 Amateur golf championship is scheduled for Inverness, Toledo, Ohio.

West Tromp East 20-6 On Gridiron

LUBBOCK, Tex., (AP) — When Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers signed to play Canadian football and decided not to participate in the 13th annual Coaches All-America Football Game, it took West Coach John McKay all of five minutes to decide on a replacement.

"We're duty bound to take the All-Americans," said McKay of Southern California. "But I have always known that Terry Metcalf was one of the best backs in the country. He plays at a small school and doesn't get much notice and was hurt a lot last year."

Metcalf won't have an identity problem any longer. The Long Beach State product exploded for 135 yards on 18 carries, scored one touchdown and set up another as the West clipped the East 20-6 in the nationally televised game Sunday.

The 5-foot-10, 185-pound third round draft choice of the St. Louis Cardinals was voted the game's most valuable player—the second consecutive year that has happened to a substitute in this contest which provides funds for the America Football Coaches Association. Billy Taylor of Michigan, a last-minute pick, won the honor last year in a 42-20 East victory.

Sayre broke 50 straight in the shootout as Coleman finished second and Gerber third.

Former British Open golf champion Tony Jacklin of England tied for fifth in this year's Caracas Open. His prize was $1,356.

Revson Gains Pole Position For Running Of Schaefer

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Peter Revson will start in the pole position in Sunday's Schaefer 500. The fact that he's sitting there isn't all that surprising, because he's running for the well-backed Team McLaren.

Jerry Karl drives for one of the unsung independent owners who ply the U.S. Auto Club's championship circuit. His machine is powered by a turbocharged Chevrolet engine.

Some people will tell you he's got two strikes against him before even firing up his stockblocker. He has to match horsepower with the $3,000 Offenhauser and Ford racing plants.

Revson and 26 other drivers are assured of starts in the $400,000 Schaefer—third richest auto race in this country and one of three 500 milers that make up USAC's "triple crown" series. Karl isn't sure of a start yet, but he almost had one in the bag.

Karl and his car, a product of Smoky Yunick and built in the "best damn garage" in Daytona Beach, Fla., had been among the fastest runners during a week of practice at Pocono International Raceway. Off those runs, he figured to start well up in the field.

But a series of problems—some of his own making and others over which he had very little control—kept him from his appointed task.

There was, however, one saving grace. Karl will get another chance in a special qualifying session Wednesday morning to make up for rain-shortened trials.

Revson, a handsome native of New York City who now lives in California, edged Al Unser and Mario Andretti for the pole on Saturday. Unser and Andretti, driving identical Viceroy's Offys built by former Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones, turned in four-lap speeds of 190.567 and 190.164 m.p.h. to nail the other front row berths.

Brother And Sister Top SOAP Box Racers

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Bryan couldn't to anything but grin Sunday after his daughter and son finished onetwo in the annual Soap Box Derby here.

Kimber, 14, took first place over her 12-year-old brother Layne in the sixth heat finals of the Jaycee sponsored event.

37th Hoosier Futurity Heads For High Purse

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 37th annual Hoosier Futurity harness racing program, which paid out more than $66,000 in four races at last year's Indiana State Fair, appears headed for an even higher purse payoff this year.

According to Howard Armstrong of Connersville, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Trotting and Pacing Horse Association, nominees are up 50 over last year in the 2-year-old colt and filly trotting and pacing divisions.

Top Boxer Goes After Gold Medal

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A 17-year-old national boxing champion, described as Cincinnati's best prospect since Ezzard Charles, says he'll shun pro offers for the glitter of gold.

Aaron Pryor, a high school senior already hardened by international competition, has set his sights on an Olympic gold medal in 1976.

The 132-pound national AAU title winner recently defeated top fighters from Canada, Poland and Venezuela. He is the Ohio and North American champ.

"I think Aaron Pryor is one of the best prospects for the Olympics we've ever had," says AAU boxing official Rollie Schwartz of Cincinnati.

"He has great ability to box and punch like Ezzard Charles... tremendous balance. He can throw a half-dozen punches without losing balance," said Schwartz.

Pryor's coach, Phil Smith, is equally high in praise for his prize pupil.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — America's oil companies last year spent an estimated $112,370,000 on television ads aimed at getting you to stop at their gas stations. Now they're spending millions to get you to conserve gas.

This is called irony in some quarters, a national gasoline shortage in others. The oil companies don't want you to stop buying gas. They now just want you to use it more wisely than before.

Six major companies—Mobil, Exxon, Gulf, Texaco, Amoco and Shell—say they've stopped or are phasing out their broadcast advertising created specifically to sell gasoline.

Of those six, only the Gulf Oil Co. says it has yet to begin a broadcast campaign with the theme of gasoline conservation. A spokesman for the company says it'll probably start such a campaign soon.

The latest entry in the save-the-gas derby is the Shell Oil Co., which today kicks off a major summer campaign that includes six 30-second television commercials starring actor Richard Basehart.

He'll offer tips on how motorists can conserve gasoline during the shortage, a Shell spokesman says.

Singer Johnny Cash already is doing that for Amoco.

The estimate of $112,370,000 spent by oil companies on network and area television advertising comes from the Television Bureau of Advertising, which is supported by the television industry.

New Orleans Blaze Claims 29

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Most of the 29 persons killed when fire flashed through a second-story cocktail lounge in the French Quarter here were trapped by burglar bars on three front windows, authorities said today.

Fifteen others were injured in the fire at The Up Stairs Lounge, which was packed for the weekly Sunday night beer bust featuring all you could eat and drink for $2.

A survivor said he believed somebody dashed an inflammable liquid on the stairway to the lounge and lit it.

Fire Supt. William McCrossen said homicide investigators and the state fire marshal would take a careful look at reports that "some people smelled gasoline just before the fire."

However, he cautioned, such reports were unconfirmed.

Some small persons managed to escape by squeezing through the burglar bars on the lounge's front windows and then leaping to the street. Others left the building by smashing a side window and climbed onto a fire escape. A few made their way to another fire escape in the rear.

The bodies of those who did not make it lay jammed like logs against the front windows, with four huddled under a charred grand piano.

Some of the injured apparently were hurt in jumping to the street.

Authorities said there was only one woman among the dead.

Fire headquarters is but three blocks away. Units were on the scene in two minutes, said Supt. William McCrossen. The fire was out 16 minutes later.

Adolph Medina, 32, of San Antonio, Tex., said flames engulfed the bar in a short, panic-ridden moment after fire broke out on the front stairway.

He said, "I was panicked about jumping, but two guys urged me to jump and I was small enough.... Some big guy on the ground caught me, and I kept looking back but my friend never got out."

Linn Quinton, 25, of Houston, Tex., said, "The place just went up. Everyone panicked and started running for the windows. I jumped to the window in the left corner, opened it, swung out, grabbed a pipe and slid down."

"I turned around and broke a couple of other people's falls, but there were one or two who just wouldn't jump." Quinton said: "The bigger people just couldn't get out."

"Bill Larsen, a pastor at the Metropolitan Community Church, got caught in the window, and I just watched him burn. He had one arm out, and I heard him scream: 'O God! No!'"

"In the next window beside him, three people burned to death while I could only watch."

Hundreds of persons swarmed from the busy Quarter area to watch firemen remove the bodies, lowering them one at a time with a snorkel truck.

A bartender set up a bar on the sidewalk across the street and did a brisk business with the spectators.

2 Men Injured In Fall From Electric Tower

Pickaway County Sheriff's Department reported two men were injured in a fall from electrical tower being erected near Randall Road.

Taken to Berger Hospital, they were treated for head and neck and severe back injuries.

Details of the accident and the men's names were not available at the noon deadline of The Herald. The accident occurred about 10:30 a.m.

Youth Injured In Car-Cycle Accident

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated an injury-accident late Sunday evening on Route 22 west.

Seventeen-year-old Donald St. Clair Bowen, Newark, received a strain and abrasions of the left knee, when the motorcycle he was a passenger on was forced off the road.

Clifford L. Bowen, 43, Route 1, Newark, driver of the motorcycle, reported he was riding with a motorcycle group when a car driven by Cynthia Jane Maxhimer, 24, Columbus, was attempting to pass. While she was passing the motorcyclists, she saw another car coming in the opposite direction, and cut back into her lane too quickly, she struck the front wheel of the motorcycle causing it to go off the road.

Sheriff's Deputy Lowell Ferguson cited her for improper passing.

Summit Holds Prospects For Thaw

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon says his week-long meeting with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev holds the promise of "peace for all the people of the world."

Brezhnev agreed, saying on Sunday that the summit with Nixon means "political detente is being backed up by military detente."

At the summit's formal end Sunday, the two leaders signed a communique during a televised ceremony outside Nixon's oceanside home here. That summary of the talks is to be released today when Brezhnev leaves the United States.

Nixon loaned Brezhnev his jetliner to fly to Camp David, Md., for an overnight stay before the Soviet Communist party chairman's departure today for Moscow via Paris. Nixon bade him farewell at nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

Before leaving California, Brezhnev taped a television-radio speech to the American people that was broadcast Sunday evening as he flew east. In the address, also for broadcast in the Soviet Union and other countries, he said his talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."

At the signing of the communique, an ebullient Brezhnev said the 40-plus hours of dialogue might lead to another Nixon visit to Moscow "in six or eight months' time." The President's previous visit was in the spring of 1972.

Both Nixon and the Soviet leader pointed to two major summit agreements: a nonbinding accord aimed at avoiding nuclear war and a statement of principles designed to give new impetus to stalled strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) in Geneva.

The world's longest river is the 4,145-mile Nile in Africa.

Brezhnev was asked if talk of a Nixon return trip to Moscow next winter indicated a feeling that a new SALT pact could be completed by that time.

"... We are working in this direction. But concretely, unfortunately, I cannot tell you anything for the time being," Brezhnev said.

Nine agreements were announced during Brezhnev's visits to Washington, Camp David and San Clemente. Left for the future were new curbs on offensive arms and the resolution of trade issues stymied by congressional opposition to granting most favored nation treatment to the Soviet Union.

Neither Brezhnev nor Nixon seemed unduly disturbed about the unfinished business, however, as both men placed heavy emphasis on summit accomplishments.

In his 48-minute television-radio address, Brezhnev rejected the "poisoned relations" of the cold war. "Mankind has outgrown the rigid Cold War armor which it was once forced to wear. It wants to breathe freely and peacefully," he said.

Saying he was "satisfied with the way the talks went," Brezhnev added: "Even if our second meeting with the President yielded no other results, it could still be said with full grounds that it will take a fitting place in the annals of American-Soviet relations and in international affairs as a whole."

Before Nixon and Brezhnev boarded a helicopter for the short hop to El Toro, the Soviet leader had an animated chat with the three Skylab 1 astronauts — Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz. They gave him a plaque with badges they wore during their record 28-day space mission.

The visitor seemed to enjoy the several farewell ceremonies so much that he showed reluctance to leave. At El Toro, he paused to field newsmen's questions while Nixon, showing some impatience, stood aside. The President finally grabbed Brezhnev's elbow and steered him toward the red carpet leading to the presidential jet.

Once at the plane's door, Brezhnev turned, waved and held clasped fists aloft in a boxer's gesture. Nixon waved, then waited on the ground until Air Force One was airborne before helicoptering back to San Clemente.

The President, who will stay here until after July 4, spent Sunday afternoon in his residence. He and Mrs. Nixon had presidential adviser and Mrs. John B. Connally as dinner guests.

On his way back to Moscow, Brezhnev will stop in Paris for three days of talks with French President Georges Pompidou.

Sharp Cuts In Defense Being Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp cutbacks in defense spending, and the transfer of those funds to domestic programs, were proposed Sunday by a group of former top national security officials.

The transfer of $14 billion from defense to domestic uses was suggested by the group, headed by former Assistant Secretary of Defense Paul Warnke.

"Even a conservative analysis shows that some $14 billion can be saved from the Nixon proposal while fully preserving our national security and starting a return to a peace-time national budget," the men said.

Besides Warnke, the group included a number of long-time critics of defense spending policies, including former Pentagon research chief Herbert F. York, former disarmament director William Foster, former presidential science adviser George B. Kristiakowsky and former Defense Department officials Roswell L. Gilpatric, Townsend Hoops and Morton Halperin.

The proposed reductions, including elimination of the $3.1 billion sought for U.S. aid in Southeast Asia, amount to more than 15 per cent of the administration request for $87.3 billion in new military appropriations.

The report was published under the auspices of the Project on Budget Priorities, a group of labor, religious and political organizations seeking to reorder national priorities.

Dollar Levels, Gold Weak

LONDON (AP) — The dollar steadied in Europe today, recovering from a record low in Frankfurt. Gold weakened.

Trading was quiet, and dealers said markets appeared to be awaiting developments. Two conflicting theories were advanced.

According to one, testimony damaging to President Nixon this week from former White House counsel John Dean could drag the dollar down further in Europe.

The dollar has been depressed in recent weeks by fears that the Watergate scandal will limit Nixon's ability to resolve inflation and other economic problems.

Other dealers, however, suggested the dollar had been oversold in its long decline since February. The U.S. currency has floated down 12 per cent against the German mark, 10 per cent against the Swiss franc, 8 per cent against the French franc and 5 per cent against the British pound — all since February.

According to this view, the dollar is already at bargain levels and should begin to attract buyers.

Gold dropped back further today, indicating there was less pressure on the dollar for the time being. The metal dropped to $118 an ounce in London and Zurich, the two major centers, down $2 in London and $2.25 in Zurich from late Friday.
